Home visitation for social history

Broken elevator, creaky staircase

Transportation?

“Bike . . . stolen!”

Childhood?

“Abusive, deaths, drifting: mother’s many evictions”

Mental health?

“Depression, nightmares, blackouts”

Neighborhood?

“Loud, dealers tempting my sobriety”

Peers?

“Gangs for protection”

Incarcerations?

“23-years locked up . . . ended my education”

Echoes Matthew Desmond’s Evicted:

“Poor black men are locked up; poor black women are locked out”
